Department of Education

February 1, 2004

Dear Teacher Educators:

The Office of Academic and Professional Standards is once again pleased to invite you to participate in our continuing series of seminars on second language teacher education. Seminar VII on Teacher Preparation for World Languages will be held on Tuesday, March 2, 2004 at Rider University in Lawrenceville, New Jersey in the Sweigart Hall Theater. Rider University is located on Route 206 between Princeton and Trenton. It may be reached by taking Interstate 95 South to Exit 7A which leads to Route 206. Detailed directions and a campus map may be accessed at: <http://www.rider.edu/grid/direct/directions/index.htm>. Parking is available for both visitors and students near the Student Center which is a short walking distance from Sweigart Hall.

The March 2nd Seminar includes a presentation by department staff on the recently adopted licensing code followed by a half-day workshop entitled Teaching Foreign Languages K-12: The WGBH/Annenberg CPB Library of Classroom Practices presented by June Phillips, nationally recognized teacher educator and senior advisor for the WGBH/Annenberg/ACTFL collaborative project. The morning workshop will be followed by a luncheon and the opportunity to make an optional visit to the Rider University Foreign Language Multimedia Center.

Dr. Phillips has provided the following description of her workshop: The WGBH/Annenberg CPB Video Library illustrates effective instruction and assessment strategies for teaching foreign languages throughout a range of grade and competency levels and may be used for a variety of audiences including college instructors who wish to illustrate best practices. During this workshop, participants will view excerpts of some of the videos, become familiar with the web site and print guide that accompany the video programs and discuss ways that this library might be useful in both pre-service and in-service teacher education.

As in the past, we suggest that each post-secondary institution be represented by a team of teacher educators to attend the seminar. This might consist of a member(s) of the education department and the modern language department and a department chairperson(s). Directors and Deans of the School of Education and the College of Liberal Arts are also encouraged to attend.

Please note that the deadline for registration is Monday, February 23, 2004. If you have any questions about this event, please contact Janis Jensen, world languages coordinator, at (609) 777-4658 or at janis.jensen@doe.state.nj.us. We look forward to seeing you in March, and request that you extend an invitation to your colleagues to join us at the spring seminar.

Sincerely,

Jay Doolan
Director
Office of Academic and Professional Standards

Sincerely,
